MISS JEAN PHILLIPS REIGNS

STUDENT COUNCIL

On Tuesday, November 12, the candidates for the Student Council held a program in which each gave a speech in assembly. There were 8 candidates of which four were to be elected. All of the candidates gave very impressive speeches.

The candidates were: Jean Phillips and Fannie Mae Findley for president; Fred Brogdon and Sandra Clark for vice president; Carol Odom and Suzanne Higgs for secretary; and Linda Dennis and Zandra Alexander for treasurer.

Afterwards, at recess and at lunch, the student body went to the polls and voted for their choice for each office.

All of the candidates ran a very good race. Those elected to the offices were as follows:

President.....Jean Phillips
Vice President...Fred Brogdon
Secretary.....Carol Odom
Treasurer.....Linda Dennis

The main purpose of the Student Council is to act as a co-ordinating unit between the students and the faculty. Other projects and activities will be undertaken also.

NEW ADDITION

We, the paper staff, are proud to announce the arrival of David Gordon Edwards, son of Mr. & Mrs. H. Neil Edwards, Tuesday, November 13, weighing 7 pounds.

Mrs. Edwards was our school secretary last year. Mr. Edwards is the band director. Congratulations are in order, and we take this opportunity to express ours.

____ Staff

By a vote of the student body on Friday, November 15, Jean Phillips was elected as Homecoming Queen.

Jean was crowned by Mr. Paul E. Davis, Principal, at the homecoming football game. This was the Lyons-Reidsville game played on Friday, November 15. Her court included the runner ups: Una Yarbrough; Barbara Stephens; Becky Yarbrough; Geraldine Cook; Ronnie Smith; Susan Brown; and Sherrie Thompson.

All of the girls were looking their best and wearing a beautiful corsage.

THANKSGIVING PSALM OF PRAISE (Psalm 100)

Make a joyful noise unto the Lord,
all ye lands,
Serve the Lord with gladness: Come before his presence with singing.
Know ye that the Lord he is God:
It is he that hath made us and not we ourselves; we are his people and the sheep of his pasture.
Enter into his gates with thanks giving and into his courts with praise: Be thankful unto him and and bless his name.
For the Lord he is good; his mercy is ever lasting; and his truth endureth to all generations.

TEACHERS FATHER PASSES

Leo T. Clifton, 69, father of our Vocational Ag. Teacher, Henry B. Clifton, died suddenly at his home following a heart attack.

The paper staff extends our deepest sympathy to the entire family.

THE GRACE OF THANKSGIVING

By. James W. Sells

Thanksgiving Day is a symbol of the attitude of heart which denotes the true American.

The Pilgrims celebrated their first harvest festival with a day of thanksgiving. Governor Nathaniel Brownson of Georgia proclaimed October 18, 1781, a day of Thanksgiving and urged Georgians to "thankfully and publicly acknowledge the many unmerited favours conferred on us by a bountiful God."

Again, we need to "publicly acknowledge the many unmerited favours conferred on us by a bountiful God." We should realize that it is not because of anything we have done that God has singled us out to receive so many blessings that we cannot count them.

Gratitude is a Christian grace. It is a habit of life which is the fruit of the trees of kindness grown from the seeds of many thoughtful acts. "Gratitude is a fruit of great cultivation; you do not find it among gross people," said Samuel Johnson.

When I stop to think of the many things for which we need to thank God, I again think of the old song that went like this: "Count your many blessings, Name them one by one." Well, let's see what some of the blessings are:

For food and friends and family—we thank Thee, Lord.

For skies of blue and mountains tall; for fields of corn and rows of grain; for waters rippling in the sun and rain that falls in autumn sun and rain that falls in autumn night; for a child's sweet smile and a friend's warm glance; for country roads and city streets; for buildings tall and cabins small; for ocean waves that curl and foam; for sharp plowshares that turn the loam; for smoke against the sky and autumn haze of fields; for prayers at church and hymns to sing; for Book and Word and everything—we thank Thee Lord.

For sight to see, and ears to hear; for beauty bright and music clear; for books to read and thoughts to think; for roses red and camellias pink; for land to own and debts to pay; for work to do both night and day; for sleep and stars and clouds and sun; for trees that grow and friends for fun; for horizons far that call to me, and hills I know I'll never see; for rocks and rills and native land and pains I know no man can stand; for hope and faith and dreams at dawn; for eyes so blue and a babe's slow yawn; for life and truth and courage strong to dare to strike against the wrong; for heaven that lifts and other gifts—we thank Thee, Lord.

Hymns of praise, of thanksgiving, of gratitude are a part of our greatest heritage. In hymns our hearts turn to God and we forget ourselves as we meditate on mercy of the Eternal Giver.

On this Thanksgiving Day, let us remember that no atom bomb has destroyed our land, no enemy encamps on our shore, America is still the land of hope and promise, and the future of the South was never so bright.

These are the gifts of God. Let us give thanks and sing our praises to His Name. One of my favorite prayers is found in the Book of Common Prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Cardinal Newman wrote this prayer;

"O Lord, support us all the day long, until the shadows lengthen and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed, and the fever of life is over, and our work is done. Then in thy mercy grant us a safe lodging, and a holy rest, and peace at the last. Amen.

ARE YOU A GOOD SCHOOL CITIZEN?

In the November 2 issue of the Lyons Roar, we printed an editorial about citizenship entitled "Guideposts". It contained 10 rules for being a good citizen of the United States.

This month I am writing about being a good school citizen.

"What you are speaks so loudly that I can't hear what you say." This quotation expresses our philosophy on citizenship. As you go about your daily tasks, you reveal yourself unconsciously by the way you tackle your job, in your attitude toward your fellow students and toward those in authority. How does your disposition speak for you? Is it sullen or cheerful? Do you show enthusiasm, or laziness? Do you want your standing in the school community to be good, or bad? If we desire others to have a good impression of us, we must make a conscious effort to govern ourselves.

As a good citizen of the school, one should seek opportunities to serve as committee member or officer of clubs, classes, etc. He should be aggressive in preserving an attractive school and ready to discourage the destruction of property. Under all circumstances, he should be courteous, dependable, and helpful. These things will help us, as students, to build characters and personalities that will insure our success as adults.

Here are some rules for good school citizens to follow.

1. Do not skip class.
2. Do not destroy school property.
3. Show courtesy to teachers and fellow students at all times.
4. Do not cheat.
5. Do not mark or carve furniture or walls.
6. Do not cause disturbances in classes, halls, or chapel.
7. Try not to be tardy.
8. Obey safety regulations.
9. Keep locker closed and orderly.

Do you see some of your habits listed above? Remember, character strengthens with every conquest of an undesirable habit.

REIDSVILLE DEFEATS LYONS 26 TO 0
ON HOMECOMING NIGHT

The Lyons High School Bulldogs with six first string men off of the starting line-up due to the epidemic of influenza, lost to the Reidsville Tigers on their Homecoming Night 26 to 0.

Out weighed, and outmaned, but not outfought, the young bulldogs gave it all they had in a losing effort. Only two seniors saw action Friday night. They were Larry Gossot and Charles Parker. Everyone should be proud of our team for giving it all they had with what they had.

Everyone played so well it would be hard to pick one outstanding player. Fred Brogdon, Larry Gossot, Jerry Scott, George Youngblood, and Jimmy Collins were all outstanding on offense and on defense.

HI-Y NEWS

The Hi-Y as a project along with the National Hi-Y collected $68 on Halloween Night by treating and not tricking.

This project was shared by the Tri-Hi-Y girls. The people of Lyons were very pleased to see boys and girls out treating and not tricking. Everyone contributed generously.

I am sure other projects will be responded to just as well in the future.

TRI-HI-Y NEWS

The Tri-Hi Y, along with the Hi-Y presented an eye catching float in the Homecoming Parade, November 15. It was designed to carry out the colors of the two organizations and to emphasis their platform and purpose.

The Tri-Hi Y has taken as a monthly project the job of decorating the stage for each chapel program, and is asking the fullest co-operation of each student to try to keep the stage looking nice.

The Lyons High School has had installed recently a public address system. The staff feels that this will be an important link in making this a better school.

GOSSIP

Wonder why Linda Nees, and Winifred K. have been seen in Collins lately. Couldn't be because of those cute Collins boys, could it?????

Elaine F. seems to have her eyes set on a cute Junior. Could it be Fred B.??? How about it???

Who's little blue "FORD" is that following the little blue "CHEVY"? Could it be Jerry S. and Ronnie S.?????

What's this we hear about Charles P. and Sandra B.??? Could it be real LOVE?????

We hear the football players have measured for their jackets. Put on the charm, girls!!!

FASHION FADS

Hello everyone, this is your fashion editor once again to inform you about all the new fads and fashions of Lyons High School.

Well, girls it has been warm these last few days, and that does not mean it is summer again, so don't drag out the summer wardrobe. Keep out the skirts and sweaters because it will probably turn real cool soon.

Have you noticed the jumper Peggy R. has been wearing? It seems as if jumpers are going to be the style and favorite of everyone.

The matching skirt and sweater are also very popular this fall.

Yvonne Y. surely did look cute in that orange skirt and blouse. The leopard belt made the outfit complete. Wasn't it cute?

For the boys the Ivy League pants with dark pin stripe shirts are still a favorite of all. The

CLEVER SCHEME

During the night two burglars entered the office. One approached the safe, sat down on the floor, took off his shoes and socks and started to turn the dial of the safe with his toes.

"What's the matter?" said his partner, "Let's open this thing and get out of here."

"Now, it'll only take a minute longer and we'll drive them finger experts crazy."

neck sweaters are also very popular,

That surely is a sharpe orange V-necked sweater Fred A. has been parading around in, and those Ivy League pants really look cute, agree girls?

Have you noticed that red V-necked sweater Gwain S. has been wearing? Real cool, right girls?

Well, this is your fashion editor saying good-bye for this time. Be sure to look in next month for the latest fads and fashions of our school.
